

“It’s a People Business”

“Thompson Electric Company has been proudly serving the Midwest since 1933. Many contractors come and go, but few pass the test of time as Thompson Electric has. Without a doubt, the most significant reason for our success has been the consistently high quality of our employees. As you peruse this site, you will be introduced to some, you will read customer comments about others, but mostly you will see the results of many that go unmentioned. It would be a disservice to you and our employees to not acknowledge them. Thanks to all those that have helped in the previous decades, as well as those that are helping today. We could not have done this without you”.
